MELBA WOULD LEARN OLD SONGS OF HAWAII TO SING IN HONOLULU

Famous Diva Delighted With Islands; Thinks Pali Without Peer in Sights of World

Madame Nellie Melba, who won her way into the hearts of Honolulu people at her concert on Saturday night, has herself been charmed with Honolulu and the surrounding country. In the various motor trips which she has taken since her arrival four days ago, she has expressed constant delight at the far-famed beauties of Oahu.

"Never such shades of color and such beautiful tints," she cried, standing for the first time at the Pali, "and I have seen many of the wonderful places of the world."

Melba has seen the surf-riders, the Country Club grounds, the aquarium, and on Sunday was taken for a trip around the island. She has listened to Hawaiian singers, and longs now to learn the songs that she may come back to Honolulu and sing them for the people. All in all she has become an ardent booster for what she calls the "Eden of the world."

Melba will sing for the second time tonight at the opera house. Among her numbers will be the famous aria "Ah fors e lui" from the opera Traviata. Her graciousness with encores at the last concert promises a number of extra numbers tonight.

Robert Parker, baritone, and Frank St. Leger, pianist, both of whom delighted the audience at the Saturday concert, will again assist on the program.

The complete program is as follows:

Piano—"Paraphrase" Eugene Oneguin.....Tschalkowsky-Pabst

Mr. Frank St. Leger

Monologue—"Flying Dutchman".....Wagner

Mr. Robert Parker

Aria—"Traviata" (Ah, fors e lui).....Verdi

Madame Melba

Songs—(a) "Love Me or Not".....Old English

(b) "Rolling Down to Rio".....E. German

Mr. Robert Parker

Song—"Magdalen at Michael's Gate".....Lise Lehmann

Interval.

Piano—(a) "Nocturne" F. Sharp No. 10.....Chopin

(b) "Rhapsodie No. 6".....Liszt

Mr. Frank St. Leger

Songs—(a) "Chanson Triste".....Duparc

(b) "Mandoline".....Debussy

Madame Melba

Song—"Two Grenadiers".....Schumann

Mr. Robert Parker

Song—"John Anderson My Jo".....Maude Valerie White

NOT AWARE SHE HAS TWO HUSBANDS

The photo-play which will open tonight at the popular theater for a week's run, with matinees Wednesday and Saturday, is entitled "When Fate Leads Trumps." It is an adaptation of the book with that title from the pen of Alice M. Roberts.

The story deals with unusual conditions, making the heroine, the victim of aphasia, a polygamist, and thereby hangs the thread of the plot. Here is the story:

Gordon, a rich smuggler's son, is sent into the world to see life, accompanied by one of the smuggler band. They arrive at a summer resort. The moral effect of Marian Williams, whom Gordon meets and loves, causes Gordon to repudiate his former life. He marries Marian, and the perfect joy of his new home is broken only by the knowledge of his former life.

Then a message arrives falsely telling Gordon that his father is ill and desires to see him before his death. Gordon confesses his father's dishonorable occupation, and Marian is indignant. Her love, however, compels her to her duty, and she and Gordon go to see his father. While there the police take the entire band, but Marian escapes.

The shock of this experience brings to Marian complete loss of memory. In this condition she marries another man thinking she is single. The smuggler appears several years later and police take the entire band, but Marian's memory.

Octavia Handworth is said to be splendid in the role of Marian, while Gordon De Maine and William A. Williams are pronounced strong in the characters of the husbands.

BRITISHER WINS RECRUITS BY WALKING INTO DEN OF LIONS

BRITISHER WINS.....frantz...
FISHGUARD, Eng.—Sergeant Fuller, who recently won the Victoria Cross in Flanders and has since been assisting in the recruiting campaign in England, won two recruits here by entering a lion's den.

Fuller was speaking at an open-air meeting in a vacant lot adjoining a small menagerie, when two young men in the outskirts of the audience jestingly remarked to him: "We'll join if you are brave enough to enter that lions' cage unarmed."

"I'll just take you at your word," returned Fuller without a moment's hesitation. "Lions have no terrors for anyone who has been in the front trenches in Flanders."

He strode over to the menagerie, obtained the permission of the proprietor, and entered the cage, where there were two lions. Amid tremendous excitement in the crowd, he calmly stroked the lions for a moment or two and then walked out of the cage and resumed his place on the recruiting platform.

tion of Maui citizens will attend the civic convention on Kaula. John J. Walsh has been rounding up all possible delegates this week, and he seems pleased with the results.

MAUI NEWS

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
WAILUKU, Aug. 23.—Rev. A. Craig Bowditch, pastor of the Paia Union church, on Saturday united Miss Minnie Elizabeth Hocking and Mr. Ralph Manning in marriage. The ceremony took place at the Hocking home at Paia. Only a few intimate friends and members of the family were present at the wedding.

Miss Marian McMillan, who for a year has been a member of the Paia hospital staff, has resigned her position and will soon leave for Canada, where she will make her future home.

Ralph N. Villiers is visiting his father and mother in Wailuku during his vacation.

W. S. Mountcastle, who has been in poor health of late and who has spent several weeks in a sanitarium in Honolulu, does not seem to greatly improve. He leaves immediately for Kula, where he will spend several months in the hope of complete recovery.

The Maui Racing Association came out ahead of the game in the last meet, greatly to the satisfaction of all the members. There is a hope that with a year or two more of like success there will be no more debts on the books.

Mrs. W. A. McKay, who has been on an extended visit in Honolulu, is now back on Maui.

Mrs. Fanny H. Lockwood, one of the ladies in charge of the Castle Home in Manoa valley, returns to the city Wednesday.

W. W. Taylor, well known on Maui as the long-time principal of the Kipahulu school, and later the supervisor of that district, where he did excellent work, according to the report of the people of that district, has resigned and will make his future home in the states.

It is expected that a large delega-

DOUTHITT'S ARE STILL HANDLING HAWAIIAN SKETCH

William and Ed Douthitt of Honolulu have not sold their rights in the sketch "Spirit of Hawaii" which in its original form was presented here. A report to that effect this morning appears incorrect, inasmuch as the "William Bennett" mentioned in the Dramatic Mirror as shortly to appear in the sketch is none other than William Douthitt himself. William Bennett is his stage name.

Ed and William have been rehearsing the sketch at the Standard theater, New York. The playlet, which was first produced in the Hawaiian Opera House last year, has since been revised and the staging and scenic effects placed in the hands of E. E. Rice of "1492" and "Evangeline" fame, himself a past-master of stagecraft. As planned the sketch carries seven characters and is expected to fill about 20 minutes on the program, and will be booked on the Orpheum and Keith vaudeville circuits.
